the 10th ult. have been received. A letter of that date to the Philadelphia Gazette says:

I regret to state that owing, as it is supposed, to the intensity of the hot weather, which has succeeded to the rainy season, the fevers "del campo" and "intermittent" have broken out with an intensity so far beffing medical skill, and in its daily augmentation producing the most fearful results. A new and startling fact has been discovered in these fevers, viz: that quinine, so long and faithfully used as the only remedy against this class of diseases, proves at present to be totally inefficacious.

The mining interest of this region of Cuba is ally developing itself, so much so, as to call for its establishment of a paper devoted to this interest. The magnificent fountains ordered by the ty authorities from the United States have arrived, and give great satisfaction. The Captain General, O'Donnell, is expected to arrive here to-corrow, and great preparations are being made for its reception. Intelligence from Havana to the 21st has also come to hand through the same channel. The correspondent says:

My opinion is, that the sugar crop of the island of Cuba for 1846, will fall short at least 20 per cent, compared with that of 1844. I do not advance this opinion without having made it comparatively sure from careful inquiry. Some persons say that the damage from the hurricane of Oct. 4th and 5th, and the long continued previous drought, have not affected the coming crop to the degree asserted, but all accounts agree us to a damage—the amount of which is yet to be determined. Allowing it to be 20 per cent, it makes at any rate a deficiency of over 200,000 boxes on the crop of last year, throughout the whole island. What this decrease will be from Havana alone, you will judge by the following statement of the exports of this staple from the 1st of January, 1844, up to date—Sugar 535,057 boxes.

Now, if the "Cowes and a Market," and the Russia trade will call for their usual 200,000 box's pure whites, you must see a cause for the maintenance of high prices during the whole of the coming sugar season.

The sales of this stock were made to-day with the February dividend of two and \( a\) half per cent off. Furchases at present prices do not receive the dividend due in February, either the scrip or ceab, whichever it may be. The excitement in relation to the movements of the Legislature of Pannsylvania, on the subject of paying the interest, still continues, and as the day when the dividend becomes due approaches, the excitement must increase. Bets are made in Wall street on the result as freely as at any time during the recent political contest. It will require a special act of the Legislature to permit the payment of the interest in cash. It is stated that the present condition of the Treasury of Pennsylvania has been produced by forced means; that other resources have been resorted to than the natural sources of revenue of the commonwealth. If this is the case, the State is not in a condition to pay the interest in cash. We have ittle faith in these statements,—they being put forth, no doubt, by interested parties, who have an object to attain—Granting that the present amount of funds in the hands of the Trustees has been wholly derived from the legitimate resources of the State, and that it is sufficient to meet in talk the interest due in February, it does not follow that it would be good policy to pay the interest the mid that the interest due in February, it does not follow that it would be good policy to pay the laterest them. It would be the most suicidal policy in the world to do so, and in this opinion we have the concurrence of the shrewdest operators in Well street.—Th

The operations in this market to day show an improve ment that looks more favorable, and we have no doubt bu that business of all kinds will now take a start, and rapidly improve. The holydays are over and we may expect movements in everysection tending to increase trade, it is possible even Congress, may wake up and do something; but it is doubtful whether any act they may perfect would not produce more evil than good. Our banks continue to move very cautiously, and they will probably pursue the present course until after the lat of February when they may be called upon to expand to meet the wants of all classes. The spring importations must som make their appearance. The value of the imports of foreign merchandise last January was nearly as much as for any month during the year. It is to be hoped that the receipts this, will fall far short of those for the corresponding month last year. At present the indications are invorable for a reduced importation, and we trust they will be realized.
